

ABSTRACT

Disclosed is an interior optical cable including a plurality of tight buffer optical fibers; a subsidiary tension member surrounding the outer circumferences of the optical fibers; and an outer coating layer surrounding the subsidiary tension member, wherein 5 the tight buffer optical fibers has a predetermined lay ratio to the outer coating layer.